

WILMINGTON INDUSTRIAL PARK APPROVED

The Wilmington Planning Board last night approved unanimously the completed Definitive Plan for the Wilmington Industrial Park, off Route 93 and Concord Street.

Better known to the people of Wilmington as 'Barbo's' it is being developed by the Carl Realty Corporation of Lexington, a development group which includes the Barbo Brothers and the A J Tambone Company of Reading, well known developer of commercial and residential properties.

Signing of the plan for the 188 acre industrial development will now have to await the twenty-one day waiting period required by the laws of Massachusetts.

Preliminary plans were first submitted to the Planning Board on June 14, 1966, and the Definitive Plan approved last night was first submitted on December 13th.

Approval was obtained last week of that portion of the plan which includes land in North Reading. This culminated many weeks of intensive negotiations between the Planning Boards of the two towns, and achieving final adjustments of the plan to satisfy the requirements of each community.

NEW OFFICIALS TAKE THEIR OATH OF OFFICE: After waiting for newly elected Selectman George Boylen Jr. to come from his home. The oath was given by Town Clerk Esther Russell at 11:58 pm Saturday, and Town Manager Harold Melzar kept getting in the view of the camera L to R: taking the oath, James P Donahue, Wilmington Housing Authority; Robert Leahy and Joseph J Sottile, Wilmington Redevelopment Authority; Selectman George Boylan, Miss Diana Imbimbo, School Committee (partly hidden by Town Clerk), Moderator Simon Cutter, (partly eclipsed by Melzar) and Robert Tadjell, School Committee.

LEADING THE SINGING: Leo Barbo of Winchester, a visitor at the Wilmington Rotary Club luncheon, yesterday, shown leading the club singing, with John Caiso providing the musical accompaniment. Barbo told the Rotarians that he expects to have over $7 million in new buildings in the Wilmington Industrial Park, off Concord Street, within a relatively short time.

Rice Brothers Down but Not Out

HELPING TO CLEAN UP: Two Rice girls, helping the Rice Brothers clean up their showroom after Tuesday morning's fire. Nearest the camera is Holly Rice, and the other young lady is Lou Ann.

The Rice Brothers, builders of Quaker Maid and other fine kitchens, may be Down, but they are not Out. A sign, in the window of their office, valiantly proclaims this.

The two brothers, Bertram and William E. Rice, together with their new sales manager, and brother in law, William Stickney of Linda Road are cleaning up the mess left by a fire which raged through their office during the heavy snowstorm of Tuesday morning. The fire was reported at 3:24 am, and was not declared out until 8:10 am, and is believed to have started in defective wiring. Lt. Walsh of the State Fire Marshall's office is investigating.

The fire started in the back part of the building, known to the people of Wilmington as 'Polcaro's', from the name of the firm which first built it, and in addition to the Rice Brothers, who occupy the front end of the building there was the Federal Yeast company in the back part. Smoke and water damage was all that was understood to have happened in the Federal Yeast part, but the rest of the building was heavily damaged.

No Insurance

The Rice Brothers had just completed the of five new Kitchen Displays, complete. In some cases there was wall to wall carpeting. The total cost, including some new miscellaneous displays, was valued at over $21,000.

There was, one member of the firm said, no insurance.

Town Meeting Starts at 1:30 pm Saturday

Wilmington's annual Town Meeting, which starts at 1:30 pm Saturday in the High School gymnasium will probably have many arguments over small items, but few over the larger items in the budget.

One of the major items over which much argument is expected will be that of the Veteran's Clubhouses. The Finance Committee reported an adverse decision, in its report to the town, but the vote was not unanimous. The entire sum $2250, represents about two cents on the tax rate.

Perhaps not as much discussion will be engendered over proposed increases in salary to the Police Chief and the Police Lieutenant, but the proposals were not made by the Town Manager in time to be included in the budget. The sum involved is only a few hundred dollars.

A proposed six percent raise for members of the Fire Department may take quite a bit of discussion. It is also expected that there will be a change in the Salary Account of the Town Engineer.

The Town Manager has also asked for a $12,000 increase in the Maintenance of Public Buildings salaries, and it is understood that Mr. Jaeschke is ready to request an increase in this amount.

The greatest confusion, however, is likely to arise over the items in Article 12. This year, for the first time, such items as purchase of police cruisers, trucks for the highway department, etc. have all been lumped in one article, enough to confuse a Philadelphia Lawyer. The Town Meeting should have a lot of fun chewing over this article.

Possibly because of a crumpled fender or some misfortune with the family car. It's a sensitive area in many homes.

Nosey Nancy

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208 Wilmington, or call 657-7141, or 658-4865 after five. If I'm not there, I'll call you.

This reporter was very lucky this week. She heard Dr. David J. Myerson, the Clinical Director of Drug Rehabilitation at the Boston State Hospital speak on 'Drugs and Drug Addiction by the Teenager of Today'. He is a doctor and psychiatrist and is doing research on the patterns if any, as well as the response to treatment. To date, they have found no pattern. It seems to be universal, affecting different social and ethnic groups at different times. Now the affluent are showing up for treatment. He says the kids don't do it for money...just for kicks or escape from their humdrum lives...so there is not much problems with pushers as such...the kids swipe it from the drug stores and pass it out to their friends...so, you see, we are not safe from this hazard, which he says has more prestige to the youngsters than drinking. He recommended that parents watch for a change in behavior pattern, usually with brilliant children...slump in their marks, and rebellion against parental authority.

Don't forget the Explorers, Troop 56 Easter lilies at 50¢ per bud. If you haven't, please phone your orders to Richard Ness at 658-3896; Gary Hale, 658-6573; or Alan Green 658-2568. They will be delivered to you the week before Easter.

Hey, what do you know, Gary Balser got his peanut butter! And in two weeks too. Mrs. Balser said that she sent it in a five pound tin and by ground mail, according to Henry Porter's instructions. He told her that they air lifted the straight mail from Seattle anyway. Gary said in his letter that he and the boys took it over to the mess hall and got bread and jam and ate the whole can at one sitting...Didn't say how many GI's were involved, but hope there were at least five, so that there weren't any stomach aches. If Gary and his buddies demolish peanut butter like the Clark Clan, it tasted better to them than Turkey.

Well, what did you think of the election? Boylen's lead, to me and many others, was a tremendous surprise. It was too, to Ralph Allen, the North Wilmington barber, who was taking bets on Boylen by 500 votes. Ralph isn't exactly a betting man, generally he bets in the term of free or double priced haircuts, but there are those who say he cleaned up. He is the only person I've heard of who thought there would be a 500 vote lead by Boylen. Even Doc Fagan, the word has it, thought that Boylen would not lead by more than 200 votes.

In case you think that Diana Imbimo just recently thought of running for the School Committee I have news for you.

The 'Hour Glass' of Wilmington High School for the Class of 1961, has against the picture of Diana the prediction: Striving to be a member of the School Committee in Wilmington - and that was nearly six years ago!

It also describes Diana among the superlatives given to the girls in the class as: Frankest; Most Stubborn; Most Talkative; Class Debator; and Hottest Temper.

So perhaps the other members of the School Committee are in for some real sessions.

Martin Zolendick of 11 Marcus Road is in for some congratulations.

He has been named to the Agents President's Club for outstanding achievements in 1966 in the sale of insurance, by his employing firm, the Monarch Life Insurance Company of Springfield.

Betsy Bowser was accepted this week at the Salem Hospital School of Nursing for entrance in Sept. Her mother was tremendously pleased, excited, and proud, and had to call so that everyone would know about it.

What do you know...got some news from the gendarmes this week. Congratulations are in order for Sargent Shepherd...He and Mrs. Shepherd are the proud parents of twin girls...and Charlie Ellsworth is about to become a proud papa at the age of 40? Understand that Sargent Mercier was sporting his new stripes at the high school for the first time, at election. Congrats, to you all. (Don't think that you guys will only be raising your tax rates with requests for additional salaries to support these small fry. At the rate you're going, we'll have to have a new school to house them...or maybe they'll just fill the Clark kids seats!)

Anyone who attended the desert and fashion presented by the Catholic Daughters at St. Thomas Church certainly had a good time and definitely had their money's worth. The model that commented on the fashions as well as the model's did an excellent job. The decorations and deserts were lovely. The girls on the committee should have a banner for their efforts. The affair was a complete sellout, I understand.

We miss Mrs. Okie at the Diner these days. Hope that her bout with the flu is almost over. It isn't the same without her. Also, we hear that Okie is planning a great fishing trip for early spring, when he and some other fellows are going to canoe into the back woods...I mean way back...and break the ice with the fishing, before the log jams interfere. By the looks out doors to day, he could build an igloo on Silver Lake and be better off. This will be interesting, because they say this year, that they aren't packing in any food...that they're going to forage for it in the woods. Wonder if that Irishman could be part Indian.

After the election Don Tutela, unsuccessful candidate for the Wilmington Redevelopment Authority expressed his sympathy to M. Flora Kasabuski, because the lady had not been elected to the School Committee.

Flora shrugged. 'Oh,' she said, 'After a while you get used to not getting elected.'

Looks like the kids will be sporting the moth-eaten snow suits on Easter. There certainly won't be any flowers, and it looks as though we might be skipping 'Spring in the East'. I'll bet it will go from 30 to 90 degrees in a week! However, I certainly wish the senior Anderson's to know that I, for one, have missed Ruth's sunny disposition this winter and Minot's wonderful sense of humor...nevermind his Scattergood Baines' advice. As for you and Bob, the transplanted New Englanders, please keep in touch so that we can let your friends know what is going on with you!

Thank you Eileen Anderson for your kind words. The spring seems a far cry this week in Wilmington.. We've had all the snow sleet and ice in one week that we usually get all winter. Tell Minot and Ruth that they just better relax for a couple of more weeks.

Wayne Marden at 19 School St has had a neck injury and we understand is in traction at the New England Sanitarium. He'd love to hear from his friends.

Joanne Poloian is out of the hospital and back in the swing of things at Sweetheart Plastics. Hope she'll be o.k. now! Understand that John did a great job keeping house.

Eleanor Mello of Salem St will be confined to the Winchester Hos. for two weeks or more for tests.

They tell me that a gal on Cedar St had her baby...but nobody told me what, when, where or who!

Russ Pollard formerly of Town came into the Depot this week, he looked fine and sends his best to all friends and acquaintances.

Don't forget the Cadette Girl Scout paper drive on Saturday, Mar 25th in the parking lot at the Methodist Church from 9-11:30 am. It seems that the gremlins got into the typing last week and I said the date was different...Saturday, 25th at the Methodist Church Parking Lot...If you can't get your papers down there and need help...Please call Jean Willis at 658-8552, and somebody will pick them up.

Your columnist has got into a little hot water because of her view points on the chain across the way to the new West Intermediate and Boutwell Schools.

The point that I was trying to explain was that when I dropped off my children occasionally I have seen many half-pinters, first or second graders, hopping merrily down the center of the Pedway from Carter Lane - so I'd like to see it either chained, or restricted, or perhaps sidewalks installed.

Selectmen's Meeting

James Miceli, of Webber Drive was unanimously elected the chairman of the Board of Selectmen Monday night. George Boylen, the new member, was welcomed to the board.

A letter was read from George McMinim of Marcus Road stating his concern about the Woburn Street bridge over Route 93. The snow had been piled up on the sidewalk, and children had been forced to walk on the street.

Selectman Paul Niles, in the discussion suggested that a letter be sent to Rep. Fred F. Cain and Senator Ronald MacKenzie, to see if a meeting could be arranged soon with the State DPW. The vote was unanimous.

An application to increase the gasoline storage capacity for the John Elia property in North Wilmington was received, and a hearing set for March 20th.

Atty Joseph Courtney appeared in behalf of the Humble Oil Co. and told the Board that some of the abutments had not been properly notified, relative to a hearing for a proposed gas station on Lowell Street. He told the board that the Humble Oil Co. would submit another application for a hearing.

Town Engineer Arthur Harding and many residents of Ferguson Road were present to discuss the plan for the acceptance of that street, scheduled for Saturday's Town Meeting.

The Planning Board had disapproved of the plan which had showed an inadequate turnaround and no suitable access to the abutting property.

The residents told the Selectmen that a hardship would devolve on one of the residents if the plan were to be accepted as originally set up. It would make the cul-de-sac come within six feet of one of the homes.

As an alternative Robert Bousfield had donated a part of his land so that the cul-de-sac could be drawn in a different manner. Harding explained that the Planning Board required a fifty foot radius for a turn-around, or at a minimum forty feet, and the proposed turn-around had only thirty feet.

Since all the residents approved of the proposed thirty foot layout, Miceli told them that the Selectmen could approve in spite of the Planning Board's disapproval. He noted that the layout and order and plans had already been filed with the Town Clerk.

Harding recommended that the Town Meeting be asked to 'pass over' the plans for the Adams Street article, in the Town Meeting, since additional information still had to be gathered.

Town Manager Harold Melzar was nominated to be the 'Outstanding Employee of the Town' by Selectman Black, and unanimously voted. Black pointed out that Melzar had given over 50 years of service to the town.

There was a discussion concerning the stand of the selectmen on the various articles to come up in the Town Meeting Saturday, and it was decided to have 'fliers' printed, for the Town Meeting, stating the opinions of the selectmen.

NANCY
Then the street, if this was done, could be really a throughway from Shawsheen Avenue to Boutwell St., and could even be accepted as a highway by the town. It would remedy the situation, before some little tot has his accident.

While politics grinds away, and personalities are involved, the kids will be going to school every day, and people are still driving through there every day. I feel that the Department of Public Safety would issue some ultimatums if they knew what was going on, in view of the fact that we've had two kids killed by cars in recent years in Wilmington.

The MYF roller skating party last Saturday night was a howling success. Over forty kids went, and Paul Bodenstein deserves the laurels. He deals with the kids every day of the week as a Guidance Director for the sixth and seventh graders at the West Intermediate School, and still has the energy to sponsor a group of young people like this. We could use him as twins.

The wrought iron rail, at the Silver Lake Shopping Center has been coming in for abuse by some of the kids in the neighborhood. The trouble is: If they succeed in breaking it up, which they seem to want to do, they may well hurt themselves in the process. Maybe some of the mamas and daddies could ask questions of the youngsters, before they cause a few hospital bills. Huh?

Mrs Winthrop Polsey has been telling me that there will be a fish chowder luncheon served at the Congregational Church on March 17th, from 11:30 to 1:30 pm. The cost will be 99¢. The South Branch of the LBS is sponsor, and tickets may be obtained from Mrs Polsey, or Mrs Samuel Bertwell, 658-3882.

Police conference on Lucci Burglary

Wilmington Police Officials, led by Lt. A. John Imbimbo held a long conference yesterday afternoon to discuss in detail the clues to the Saturday night burglary of Lucci's Market, on Lowell Street. Three officers took part in the conference and at the end had no comment to make. Police officers earlier had said that the burglary appeared to have been performed by professionals.

The thieves entered the market last Saturday night, between the hours of 9 pm and 11 pm while the attention of the town was focused on the outcome of the annual town election.

The market was closed at 9 pm, its usual closing hour. At 11 pm some boys, passing in back of the store, noticed that a high back window was open and notified the police.

Part of a ventilation duct had been pushed aside, and the window broken open to force the entry. Wires for the burglar alarm had been successfully cut.

Both Mr Lucci and his manager were in Lowell, on business, at the time of the burglary and police theorize that an accomplice of the burglars was in Lowell watching the two men while the burglary was being effected.

Total loss included $11,000 in cash and checks, of which $5,000 was in checks. Also stolen were 250 cartons of cigarettes.

Other Breaks

There were two other burglaries last Saturday night, but police believe them to have been the work of local youths.

Sullivan's Restaurant, in the same group of buildings as Lucci's had a window broken at about 3 am Sunday, and a possible burglary as well. Police do not believe the broken window was caused by the same persons as had entered Lucci's, but was instead the work of local youngsters. One police official believes he knows the name of the person who broke the window at Sullivan's.

It might even have been an accident, the police official says. Elia's Country Market, in North Wilmington was entered the same night by thieves who took a quantity of cigarettes and other merchandise. The burglary was not reported until next morning, when John Elia opened his store.

Police believe the work to have been that of local boys.

High School Elects 'Town Officials'

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL ELECTION: Miss Debbie DeMaggio, a freshman, is checked through the voting lists by Bev Mercer, also a freshman.

There was a 98% turnout of voters among the school children, compared to the 43% turnout of their elders, in Saturday's election.

LOOKING OVER THE VOTING BOOTH: On display in the corridor of the High School, after having cast their ballots for the school 'Selectmen' and 'School Committee' members.

Voting machines have been used in Everett and Brookline for the past twenty five years, and according to statements by the company reduce the cost of tabulating votes by about 50%.

Six members of the Wilmington High School 'School Committee' elected Monday by the students of the High School, will probably attend the regular School Committee meeting to be held tonight in the Roman House.

Angela Riccelli, Paul Coolidge, David Winters, Wendy Evans, John Burke and Marilyn Boudreau are the elected High Schoolers, and will be choosing a Student Supt. of Schools.

Students who have been elected 'Selectmen' will have to name a 'Town Manager' and that group will probably be attending next Monday's Selectmen's meeting.

Elected 'Selectmen' were Michael O'Rourke, Andrew Glanino, Ronald Wolff, Paul Maloney and Andrew Krey.

The elections, which were supervised by members of the Wilmington League of Women Voters took place Monday, using the same voting booths and ballot boxes that had been used in the town election of last Saturday.

YOUR PHARMACIST SPEAKS

by Louis

In the weeks to come we hope to explore and to explain some of the more interesting aspects of the wide and wonderful field of medicine. We will investigate a few 'firsts', dwell a moment on some of the great pioneers and look into some of the astounding breakthroughs of medicine that have increased life expectancy from 22 years at the time of Caesar to the 70 - plus years we can look forward to today.

Medicine's progress has sometimes been a stop-and-start, trial-and-error proposition in the search of health where life and death are the two sides of the same biological coin. As we continue to sift through the history of medicine, we hope to give you a better and clearer picture of medicine in its many facets.

FROM THE BOX SEAT

All are welcome to an exciting gymnastic demonstration by the Wilmington High School Physical Education classes. The exhibition is tonight, at the High School.

The Faculty Tourney is coming. Next week the Wilmington Teachers meet their counterparts from Keith for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund.

A tip of the hat to two great girls teams, in town. The St. Dorothy CYO club and the Methodist Church cagers. The Methodist boys also have an outstanding team, leading the Reading Inter-Church League. Steve Donahue and Jumpin' Jeff Sheerin are the big guns for Coach Dana Atkinson's five.

WHS Hockey stickout Jim Brewster made the Merrimac Valley Conference All Star Squad. . . .

Smart deals by the Giants and Saints in getting Tarkenton and Cuozzo, but now the Colts and Vikings will get to pick Spurrier or Griese. . . .

Two of the best players in last year's Little League were the top scorers in the kids' basketball league. . . . Paul Lyman, a clever ballhandler, and Tom Beaton, a strong rebounder, poured in points frequently enough to allow their team, the Broncos, to win the championship. . . .

Next week is the Big One for pro football in Boston. The player draft is scheduled for Tuesday and on Wednesday the Stadium Commission presents its recommendations to Governor Volpe. To survive in the Hub, the Patriots need a little more talent and a lot more accessible seats. . . .

Remember when a forty percent average was considered great shooting in basketball? Well, Wilt the Stilt is stuffing them through at a 69% clip. Further, a lad named Brantley from Jacksonville State College is shooting over 70% and the next ten in his division are over 60%.

Rico Catalano and Co. are hopeful of adding a second Pop Warner team to Wilmington's ranks next year. This eleven will be for the still younger fellows. . . .

Golf is to be a Varsity Sport at W.H.S.I. Pretty ritzy for an athletic budget which can't shoe its soccer team, can't afford indoor track, can't pay its coaches respectable salaries, etc., etc., . . .

Let's have a standing ovation for a guy with a lot of moxie and even more facts, D.A. Garrison.

The Lowell Chiefs got a big upset win over Walpole last week in the first round of the playoffs. . . .

Who can blame Mel Massucco for looking for security. . . . High school basketball loses a great coach if Jack Killilea decides to retire. . . . Alabama, self proclaimed national football champs, has never played Notre Dame and has played only one Big Ten team in its story (lost 15-0 to Wisconsin in 1928).

Big Jon Fairfield has been added to the Bedell Celtics roster for the Patriots game. Jon will help to fill the gap caused by the loss of two starters midway thru the season. . . . See Rico Catalano or any member of the Celtics for tickets to the game. . . .

One more group is rooting for a stadium in Wilmington, feeling that Fenway Park is inadequate and unable to gain permission from the Crimson to use Harvard Stadium. This group is an educational contingent, planning to situate a college in Wilmington, when and if we build a new library. . . . The name of this fledgling institution is to be Protest A. & M. It is to be a cultural haven for all those who either cannot tolerate their present academic environs or else cannot be tolerated by same. . . . Applications are already flooding in from discontented enrollees at Boston University, the University of Illinois, and the Air Force Academy.

President Kerr, (ex-of-Berkley) announces that his new staff includes: Muhammed Clayton Powell, Dean of Staffing and Payroll; Muhammed Cassius Clay, ROTC

Director; Muhammed Luther King, Co-ordinator of Student Activities, (non violent); Dr. Timothy Leary, Dean of the Medical School and Snack Bar; Pete Elliot, Financial Aid Director; and Bear Bryant, Dean of Admissions and Recruiting.

Head Coach Sonny Grandellus announces that football will be the Aggies (short for agitators), sole source of income. Unlimited red-shirting, and out right salaries and bonuses will be encouraged. No tutoring will be necessary for this school's athletes, as none of the players will be required to attend classes in season.

Coach Sonny admits that his players will be thrown out of Protest A. & M. at the conclusion of their final season of eligibility to (1) make room for transfer students, (2) allow these departing boys to sign pro contracts or pursue a trade, and (3) allow the university to avoid a stigma of having given a degree to anyone so scholastically inept.

Wilmington will get a chance to vote this college in the Town Meeting, this Saturday, so don't miss it!

Golf Classes at Woburn YMCA

Joseph O'Connor, local Golf Pro is to conduct a five week golf program at the Woburn Branch YMCA starting March 13th and 17th. Two classes will be held each evening at 5:30 and 6:30. Golfers may register for either the Monday or Friday series.

O'Connor, an experienced golf pro, works at Buddy LaRoux's Driving Range and worked with Ernie Doherty conducting similar classes at the 'Y' last year. Joe will take special pains to help each golfer develop his or her own style, allowing for individual differences, abilities of disabilities. There is no one right way to play golf. He will help develop the method best for you. For additional information or to register call the program office at the Woburn YMCA, 553 Main St. Woburn, 935-3270.

CORPORAL PARKS THANKS LIONS

To the Lion's Club of Wilmington Corporal David C Park extends you the following message: Thank you so very much for the box you sent me in Vietnam. It gave me a wonderful feeling to know the Wilmington Folks are backing us boys up, over there.

Dear Larz,
I would like to convey through your paper, my gratefulness and appreciation to the Firemen that operated the ambulance on the day of the severe snow storm on Feb 23, 1967.

On that day they delivered my mother to a hospital in Boston and later went back to the Shattuck Hospital and made another trip with her to a Nursing home in Lowell.

My father, Mr Malone of 26 Grant St, No. Wilmington, said they handled the situation superbly under such hazardous conditions. He had tremendous praise for both fire men.

I personally felt that when they so something so well done, perhaps the whole town should know it. God Bless them and with heartfelt thanks.

Sincerely,
Mrs Dorothy M Farrell

Philip Nelson named
'Outstanding Young Man'

Philip E. Nelson, 25 Parker St. has been named the Outstanding Young Man of Wilmington, by the Wilmington chapter of the Jaycees

Nelson was chosen for his exceptional accomplishments in professional, educational, civic and athletic abilities.

The 30 year old president of the Wilmington Boosters Association was a three letter man, class president, and National Honor Society member at Wilmington High School, and worked his way through Boston University for a bachelor's degree in history. He has since received his Master's degree at Northeastern University.

Currently a member of the faculty of Stoneham High School, Nelson has done extensive work locally for political candidates and for charitable organizations.

Extremely busy, he still finds time to play softball summers for the Wilmington Shamrocks, and basketball in winters for the Bedell Celtics, as well as many skiing expeditions to the slopes of New Hampshire.

Nelson's name has been entered in a state-wide competition for the Outstanding Young Man of Massachusetts, by the Mass. Jaycees, a competition which eventually has possibilities of national recognition.

A banquet is to be held on March 31st at which Phil's friends and relatives will have an opportunity to pay him honor. Ticket chairmen are Joseph Beaton Jr. 658-2677, and Jim Miceli, 658-9797.

Small Pox
Clinic next

The Wilmington Board of Health is sponsoring a Small Pox Vaccination Clinic next Tuesday, at Villanova Hall, from 9:30 am to 11 am.

The clinic is for those children only who are entering either kindergarten or the first grade of school.

There will be positively no admittance after 11 am. All children entering school must show a certificate of vaccination, and should have a booster dose of oral polio, and diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus. This should be done before any child is registered for the first grade.

WILMINGTON'S AMBASSADOR TO RUSSIA: Richard Silverman of Middlesex Avenue, a Junior at the New England Conservatory of Music, showed colored slides of his recent tour of Russia with the Conservatory Concert Choir, to the Rotarians of Wilmington, yesterday.

Silverman declared that 'if we can get away from the so-called diplomats we could have friends in Russia. The people of Russia want to be friends, but they couldn't be seen with us. A man would come every time some of the people started to talk with us, and they (the people) would simply disappear.'

Capt. Louis P. McNicoll of Woburn Street was pictured in a Feb. 23rd edition of the Pacific Stars and Stripes, newspaper published for service men serving in Viet Nam.

A copy of the paper was sent to the Town Crier by Sgt. Alvin Blaisdell of Main Street.

The story is of the men who man the Air Weather Service on the northeast side of Saigon, for the military personnel in the Republic of Vietnam, and tells of the responsibilities of Louis McNicoll and the 22 men unit he commands.
